A Touchstone Energy® Cooperative

By the numbers

BLUE RIDGE ELECTRIC Cooperative, like most other businesses, typically deals with a big body of statistics. Many of the numbers are indicators of financial performance. However, there are certainly other figures that are also very important. These can relate to service quality, safety, cooperative principles, and the like.

In this month's report, I'm going to use this space to highlight just a few of the numbers I found to be significant from the cooperative's 2011 operation. I hope you'll also find them to be enlightening.

► 173 member houses and mobile homes that were certified last year for the Blue Ridge Total Electric/Energy Conservation Rate (TEC): Structures need to meet certain insulation and weatherization standards in order to qualify for the rate. A free inspection by the cooperative's energy conservation advisor is all that's required to determine if a premises meets the qualifications. The typical monthly power bill for a TEC-certified home is about 10 percent lower than that of a dwelling served under the regular Residential schedule.

► $3,358,053.19 in property taxes and municipal franchise fees the cooperative paid to the respective governments within its five-county service area: Blue Ridge ranks among the top supporters of county services and school funding in this region of our state.

► 887 days without a lost-time accident: The Blue Ridge employee team worked from March 27, 2009, until August 31, 2011, without a single recordable incident. Such an outcome is a credit to the members of our workforce and their adherence to our safety practices.

► 3.39 average per-member outage

hours for the entire year: With 8,760 hours in a 365-day year and with nearly 7,000 miles of power lines stretched across South Carolina's most wooded, mountainous, and storm-prone terrain, this represents, in my view, a striking accomplishment. The cooperative's aggressive right-of-way maintenance program and our employees' consistently rapid response to service interruptions both helped to produce this impressive result.

► $162,000 in Blue Ridge Fest proceeds: This record-breaking number from our annual charity fundraiser did a great deal of good within the cooperative's service territory. Thanks to our employee volunteers, our host of corporate sponsors, and great community support, the 14-year history of Blue Ridge Fest has produced almost $1.3 million for local human-assistance agencies.

► 5,625 power poles inspected on the Blue Ridge system: Only 98 of the poles examined (1.74 percent) were found to be defective and, therefore, scheduled for replacement. The cooperative's program of regular and systematic pole inspections is another of the numerous steps our organization is taking to ensure members receive reliable service.

► $1,000,000 capital-credit refund: In April 2011, the cooperative made its 29th consecutive yearly payment of capital credits. These refunds went to those who were Blue Ridge members in 1984-85.

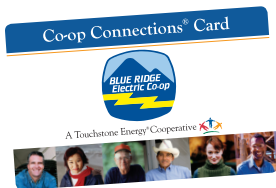

This list of numbers provides just some indication of what transpired at your cooperative in 2011. With regard to that final listed item, I'll be sharing information about this year's capital-credit plans in next month's report.

New card, more benefits coming to Blue Ridge Electric members

BLUE RIDGE ELECTRIC Cooperative's Co-op Connections program is about to save you even more. The card that offers discounts at dozens of local retailers and has saved Blue Ridge Electric members more than $1.2 million on prescription medications since May 2009, now offers members significant savings on lab and imaging services, chiropractic, dental, vision and hearing care.

Look in the center of next month's South Carolina Living. New Co-op Connections cards are included there. Co-op spokesperson Amy Childress says members can also print their own cards at HealthySavings.coop. This brand-new benefit is part of a commitment to helping members save money during challenging economic times. "The Healthy Savings Discounts package will help our members stretch their paychecks and underscore that Blue Ridge Electric Cooperative is always looking out for its members," says Childress.

To locate providers that participate in the Healthy Savings Discounts program, call (800) 800-7616 with your card handy or visit HealthySavings.coop. Savings examples include 10 to 60 percent off eyeglasses, contact lenses and eye exams; 20 to 40 percent discounts on a range of dental care services; and 30 percent off chiropractic treatments.

"Many insurance plans do not include provisions for dental, hearing and vision care. With the new Healthy Savings Discounts, Blue Ridge Electric members get no-cost access to five discounted health benefit areas: vision, dental, hearing, lab imaging and chiropractic care," said Childress.

Detailed information on available savings and how to take advantage of the entire Healthy Savings Discounts package is posted at HealthySavings.coop. If you do not have access to the Internet, please call (800) 240-3400 and someone will assist you.

There's a small change coming

Beginning March 15, you may notice that your account number is a little longer...one 0 longer. Blue Ridge Electric Cooperative members should not be affected by this change. It's simple...if your account number is 9999-01, it will now be 9999-001. While the change will not affect your transactions with the cooperative, if you use an automatic bill pay service, you should notify the financial institution you use about your new account number. If you have any questions, please call us at (800) 240-3400.
